2. Position Description

Serves as Planning Manager synchronizing USAF IT Life Cycle Management activities of the ANG with AF level programs of record to enable absorption of ANG systems into programmatic baselines and ensures parallel programmatic efforts are aligned. Responsible for oversight of NGB/A6 equity in AF IT Lifecycle program activities and similar ANG sponsored/implemented projects. Will ensure parallel or similar efforts between the organizations work towards common USAF standards/direction and acquisition strategies. Provides ANG input to USAF IT programs for ANG operating locations in regard to new requirements, and evolving AFNetOps architecture of the ANG. Attends program management reviews, enterprise management boards, requirements management boards, and serve as ANG AFNetOps coordinator. Serve as ANG liaison representing ANG Base communication and ANG NOSC requirements to the Air Force Life Cycle Management Center (LCMC). Responsible to provide information to the programs of record, enabling absorption of all applicable ANG systems into programmatic baselines. Provides feedback to NGB/A6 staff to ensure parallel programmatic efforts are aligned. The ANG IT Life Cycle Manager's main responsibility is to ensure cross flow of information between USAF IT program activities, and similar ANG sponsored/implemented projects. This position will work to ensure parallel or similar efforts between organizations establish USAF standards, direction and acquisition strategies when compared and linked as appropriate. Provides ANG input to USAF IT Plans and Programs Branch at ANG locations, ANG NOSC/ROSC operations/requirements, and evolving NetOps architecture of the ANG.

Serves as LCMC Action Officer providing formal information flow from program management offices (PMO), AFSPC and to field units (Base, NOSC, ROSC) to assist in PMO project planning and equipment deployments. Member should have working knowledge of the network architecture of the ANGEN and detailed understanding of the components that makeup the Base/NOSC/ESU/APC architecture of the ANGEN. Advises Division Chiefs, functional managers and PEMs on related budget/programming matters. Assists in defining functional requirements. Develops goals, objectives, strategic plans, and resource management plans to assist NGB/A6X consistent with ANG equities in USAF program of record. Coordinates with USAF for available resources to maximize efficiency and effectiveness of the ANG. Balances workload and provides overall guidance and direction on a wide range of infrastructure modernization programming issues. Identifies need for change in ANG strategic priorities and takes action to implement such changes within the acquisition program baseline of related AF programs. Represents NGB/A6 at a variety of ANG and USAF functional area organizations. Establishes, develops, and maintains effective working relationships and meets with key customers and coordinating officials to assess customer satisfaction, explain organization policy and procedures, and resolves significant problems that arise. Serves as A6XP Branch Chief in the Branch Chief's absence.
